

New York Pest Control Company Effectively Controls Bed Bugs with Zenprox® EC

Bed bug infestations in the United States have reached an all-time high, and pest management professionals nationwide have experienced a marked increase in calls for the treatment of these blood-feeding insects. Adult bed bugs are reddish brown, wingless insects that feed on blood usually during the nighttime hours. Henry Yane, Operations Manager at Knockout Pest Control, Uniondale, N.Y., understands the importance of offering customers effective bed bug solutions, which is why he relies on Zenprox® EC for bed bug control.

Knockout Pest Control, a family-owned business since 1975, can receive anywhere from 25 to 100 calls per week for bed bug treatment depending on the time of year. Infested accounts range from multifamily housing units and apartment complexes to residential homes and commercial facilities.

“I am very happy with this product and treat customer sites with Zenprox® EC all year round for complete bed bug control.”

Henry Yane

“We originally heard about Zenprox® EC at a pest control seminar,” said Yane. “When it comes to bed bugs, pest management professionals have to try a variety of products to see which one yields the best results. Once we started using Zenprox® EC, we knew we were providing the most effective bed bug control to our customers.”

Knockout Pest Control, serving all five boroughs in New York along with Suffolk County, Nassau County, Westchester County and Rockland County, uses Zenprox® EC as a crack and crevice, spot and indoor broadcast treatment on various types of bed bug infested accounts. The active ingredient, Etofenprox, kills on contact and offers an extended residual for up to 95 percent control of both adult bed bugs and newly-hatched nymphs.

“I am very happy with this product and treat customer sites with Zenprox® EC all year round for complete bed bug control,” said Yane. “We have seen a large reduction in callbacks and are no longer hearing customers say ‘I’m still getting bit.’ We feel that this demonstrates positive and effective results better than anything else.”

“Zenprox® EC has provided us with nothing but consistent and effective results for bed bug control.”

Henry Yane

Yane and his team at Knockout Pest Control apply Zenprox® EC per label recommendations and often use it as a tank mix partner with Gentrol® IGR Concentrate, applying the mixture with a sprayer to certain accounts. Yane said he appreciates the versatility of this product and its ability to target openings around baseboards, box springs and under furniture.

“Zenprox® EC has provided us with nothing but consistent and effective results for bed bug control,” said Yane. “By not having to go back out to customer sites to retreat for the same bed bug infestation we are conserving more of our time and money.”

Zenprox® EC is a non-repellent contact kill product that effectively controls a variety of more than 25 pests including cockroaches, fleas, spiders and bed bugs. The active ingredient, Etofenprox, ensures quick knockdown and offers an extended residual. It is available in a 16 oz squeeze and measure bottle, six per case and is approved for indoor use.
